Rob the Robot

Hello, I am Rob the Robot. I am a research robot and explore foreign planets. During a space mission I had a quite bumpy landing. At this crash all previous collected information collected was scattered around the whole planet. Can you help me collect all missing disks so I can continue my missions?

Missions

Planet Exploration

100%

Help Rob on his exploration missions on the stranger planet to collect all disks. Beware of the enemies trying to protect the floppy disks. If you are injured try to find a first aid kit, it will help you. When gathering the floppy disks, you will learn different commands and concepts to control the robot.

Robot Missions

100%

In the Robot Missions you have to help the Robot collect a single floppy disk. To do this, you must apply all the theoretical knowledge from the Planet Exploration missions. Simply drag and drop the command blocks into the workspace to control the robot.

Good luck on your mission!
